

HIGH JUNIORS SCORE IN PLAY

Creditable Performance of
"Mary Jane's Pa" Given at Orpheum Theatre

The Junior class of Ogden high school scored a decided success last evening when the play, "Mary Jane's Pa," was presented at the Orpheum theatre under the direction of Miss Vera Hassenpflug. Expecting only another amateur production, many in the audience were prepared to make allowances. "They're dear to us and we'll boost for 'em, anyhow," was the unspoken thought. But as presented last evening, no allowances need be made, the play was declared by many to be up to the standard of the best road shows. With just the right staging and costuming, the action was carried forward without hesitancy to the surprising conclusion.

COST PLAYERS.
Miss Sherma Henderson as Portia Perkins, manager of the Perkins home and the Gosport weekly paper, pleased her audience with the realistic manner in which she took her part. As Lucile Perkins, her daughter, Mayne Wright also made a decided impression. Ralph Nye, as Hiram Perkins, Mary Jane's Pa, handled the leading role with ability. The surprise of the show was Audrey Clark, a golden haired youngster, playing the part of Mary Jane, who went through her difficult assignment with naturalness and winning charm. The part of Berrett Sheridan, an actor, was taken by Clyde Miller and that of Rome Preston, a lawyer, by William McGuire, both assuming their characters with ease and assurance. The plot is laid in the village of Gosport, Ind., some years ago. It seems that Mr. Perkins felt the urge of wanderlust and decided to travel about the world, leaving his wife and two daughters to shift as best they could. Mrs. Perkins, who was in control of the weekly paper and is determined to back Preston, the lawyer, against Joel Skinner, a local politician, played by Earl Donaldson, in the race for the legislature. Preston himself is in love with the publisher. Just then the long-absent husband appears and for the novelty of it takes a place as cook in the Perkins home, his identity being hidden from the children. In brief, the unrepentant politician is beaten, the printing plant is wrecked by a mob of angry villagers, and Mary Jane's Pa is forced to disclose his identity to save the reputation of his wife.

COMES HAPPINESS.
With the political victory of Rome Preston and the engagement of Lucile Perkins to Barrett Sheridan, happiness comes to the Perkins home, in the reconciliation of Portia and Hiram. Others who play their parts with ability were Betty Hurst, appearing as Ivy Wilcox, the village belle; Kate Fenton as Miss Faxon, the village milliner; Earl Donaldson vividly appearing as Joel Skinner; Kenneth Hess, as Star Skinner, his son; Mike Rogers, typical of the village loafer; Oscar Crosby as Line Watkins, Gosport's bus driver; Conrad Pernell as the part of Eugene Merryfield, foreman of the printing office, assisted by Charles Green enacting the part of Lewellyn Green, and Israel Silverstein, in the role of John Whipple, country politician.

DANIELS URGES RADIO CONTROL

Secretary Fears Private Monopoly and Dangers of Spy Messages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—In a plea for federal control of all wireless stations, Secretary Daniels in a letter to Chairman Page, of the senate military committee, today declared that "it is one thing to say that there should be a monopoly of the air, and it is another thing to say that the monopoly should not be given over to private interests."

Mr. Daniels' letter was in reply to a request from Senator Page for an opinion on the resolution introduced by Senator Poindexter, Republican, Washington, to regulate the operation of, and foster the development of, radio communication.

Asserting that he was fully aware of the opposition that existed to government ownership of public utilities, Mr. Daniels declared experience before and during the war demonstrated that radio stations within the United States were being used for the transmission of "unneutral" messages.

"One grave danger that confronts us," the letter said, "is the possibility of a combination through interlocking directorates of the private cable interests with the private radio interests, for it is not inconceivable that the interests in owning and controlling the cables might also be interested in a radio corporation whose special interests might be served by the provisions of the pending bill."

"Amateur stations should be under government control," Mr. Daniels declared.

SALT LAKERS DINE SPERRY FLOUR MEN

Officials of the Sperry Flour company of Ogden were entertained at a luncheon given at the Salt Lake Commercial Club yesterday by the board of governors of the club and the Utah Manufacturers' association.

Visitors included James M. Parker, general manager; W. E. Gale, warehouse manager; and C. B. Kress, chief chemist.

Mr. Parker in a brief talk regarding the Ogden mills, said that the plant was established in this city because the location made them accessible to wheat grown in Utah and Idaho, and that Ogden was a strategic shipping point. He described Utah as the dividing line between the east, the west, the north and the south.

PEETE DEFENSE PLEA REVEALED

Woman Swears She Saw Denton in Arizona Long After Supposed Murder

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Contents of five affidavits submitted to the court in behalf of an application for a new trial for Mrs. Louise L. Peete, convicted of the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, were made public Monday by W. T. Aggeler, acting public defender.

In one affidavit, Mrs. Nona B. Wallace of Long Beach swore she met a man in Klamath, Ariz., September 11 last, who told her his name was Denton, and that she recently identified a picture of the man alleged to have been murdered as her acquaintance of that occasion. The prosecution declared Denton was killed June 2 last.

Two other affidavits declared they had seen the "Spanish woman," frequently mentioned in the case, but declared by the prosecution to be a myth. The remaining affidavits contained statements that the body found did not resemble Denton in several characteristics.

W. J. Ford, a local attorney, announced he has been retained as counsel for Mrs. Peete and would appear with Mr. Aggeler Wednesday when the application for a new trial is scheduled to be heard.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Careful check is kept by the Bureau of Internal Revenue on returns of individual income. Under the information at source provision of the revenue act, every person, firm, and corporation paying to another person, partnership, personal service corporation or fiduciary $1,000 or more during the calendar year 1932 is required to make a report of such payment to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In the payment of employees, employers must consider payments for overtime, commissions, bonuses, shares in the profits of the business and the fair value of board and quarters furnished as part payment for services. Names and addresses of employees and whether the employee is single, married, or the head of a family should be stated in the report. Where no present address is available the last known postoffice address should be given.

Firms having branch offices should include salary payments made to employees of such offices. The main office should make the complete return, noting the location of each branch.

A separate return for each employee whose salary was $1,000 or more is required of employers. The information in each separate case must be entered on Form 1029 and a summary of these forms made on Form 1029, which serves as a letter of transmittal. Tenants who made directly to landlords payments of rental amounting to $1,000 or more are required to file an information return. Where the rent is paid to an agent no return need be made. The agent, however, must make a return showing the total collected for each landlord during the year 1932, if it amounted to $1,000 or more.

The revenue act requires report of payments of all fixed and determinable income, such as salaries, wages, rents, commissions, and royalties. The requirements are not limited to periodical payments, but a single payment of $1,000 or over, as a fee to a lawyer or commissions to a broker must be included.

Collectors of internal revenue are not authorized to receive returns of information which should be addressed to "Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sorting Section, Washington, D. C." Forms for filing such returns, however, may be obtained from collectors.

The period for filing information returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1932. Persons required to make such returns and who fail to do so are subject to the same penalties which apply to a person who fails to make return of individual income.

OLD EMERY OIL IS NOW ON STOCK LIST

Application made for listing on the Salt Lake Stock and Mining Exchange by the Old Emery Oil company was approved yesterday by the listing committee and the stock will be called for the first time today. The company is capitalized at $250,000, divided into 1,500,000 shares of equal value.

For development purposes 500,000 shares have been set aside, 500,000 have been left in the treasury for financing stock and piping facilities should the company strike oil, the remaining 500,000 are held, it is said, among approximately twenty-five stockholders.

John C. Lynch is president of the company and Walter Smith is secretary-treasurer. Included among the stockholders are Patrick and Alexander Healy of Ogden and J. A. Hogle of Salt Lake.

The Old Emery company hopes to be the first to drill in the San Rafael region and plans to put down a test well in section 12, township 20 south, range 11 east, on the north bank of the San Rafael river at the mouth of Buckhorn draw.

The property is crossed by the San Rafael river and the site selected for the initial well is about forty miles from Mohrland and on the north bank of the river. The site for the test well was selected by a geologist of wide experience with some of the big oil companies and his estimate is that the oil horizon, if production is obtained, should be reached at about 1500 feet.

Added 50% To Tire Mileage

A Boston tire dealer, for three years, has gathered data on Miller Tires. And he reports as follows:

Users find their tire mileage increased from 50 per cent to 75 per cent.

Blow-outs have been eliminated.

Uniform mileage has been accomplished.

Only six tires in 1,000 come back for adjustment—only five Miller Tires in a year.

A Louisville dealer compared wear and mileage ten 116 styles of tires which he repaired. The constant Miller supremacy has caused him now to handle the Miller Tires only.

A California stage line made million-mile comparisons with 21 leading makes. And the Miller won by long odds.

You owe yourself a comparison on your own car. The Miller is the tire of the day.
